Nurture your mental wellness

It's important to take care of our minds, just like our bodies.

Did you know that nearly one in four adults over age 65 feels lonely?* Loneliness can affect our minds, which makes understanding it an important part of staying mentally healthy as we age.

There are many other issues common with older adults that can affect our minds as we age, like major life events, medical conditions or the death of a loved one.* Stress, sleep problems and not getting enough exercise can also cause depression and more serious mental challenges.* In 2021, the suicide rates were higher among adults ages 75 to 84 years, with the rate highest among adults ages 85 years or older.*

Each challenge can stand in the way of more meaningful and joyous life experiences. But, you have available tools to help move past them.

Watch out for warning signs

Sometimes our minds send signals when something isn't right. If you or someone you know feels very lonely, stops doing things they used to enjoy or has trouble sleeping, it might be a sign that their mind needs some extra care. Other signs can be feeling very sad too often or using alcohol or drugs more than before.

Nurture your mental wellness

What you can do

If you notice these signs in yourself or a friend, there are things you can do. Sometimes just talking to a friend about what's going on can make a big difference.

You can also reach out to helpful resources like:

- American Foundation for Suicide Prevention (AFSP) at afsp.org
- 988: The Suicide & Crisis Lifeline provides 24/7 free and confidential support, prevention and crisis resources for people in distress. Dial 988.
- Resources For Living®: Resources For Living can connect you with counselors or mental health professionals who can listen and support you. Call a Resources For Living counselor 24/7 at 1-866-370-4842 \(TTY: 711\), Monday through Friday, 8 AM to 6 PM (all time zones).
- Teladoc® Health: Teladoc Health gives you access to a national network of U.S. board-certified doctors by phone or video. Contact Teladoc Health at 1-855-835-2362 \(TTY: 1-855-636-1578\) or visit Teladoc.com/Aetna

Growing older is a wondrous journey and nurturing your mental wellness is a crucial chapter. Remember, you're never alone — there are friends and helplines eager to help make your journey brighter and turn your golden years into an unforgettable adventure.

We're also here to help. For a list of mental health services covered under your plan, or to get help finding a provider, visit your member website or call us. Call Aetna® Member Services at the number on your member ID card.

Vaccines

are a vital health tool for older adults

Vaccines are an important part of taking care of our health. They help our immune system so that we can fight germs that make us sick.

Vaccines are made up of inactive or weakened parts of the germ or the blueprints that make up the virus or bacteria.

When we get a vaccine, our immune system creates antibodies that help ward off the infections. That way, our body can fight the infection so we either don't get sick or our symptoms are milder. A great example of this is the flu vaccine. While you might still catch the flu after being vaccinated, you'll generally have milder symptoms and recover much faster.

Vaccines are especially important for seniors. Some infections are more common and cause more severe illness and even death in adults older than 65.* Chronic diseases such as heart disease, diabetes, COPD, asthma, liver disease or cancer can make it much harder for your body to fight infections.*

Talk with your doctor about which vaccines are recommended for you. The following are just some vaccines covered under your Aetna Medicare Advantage plan:

- Flu shot (annual)
- COVID-19
- Pneumonia
- Hepatitis B

To find a full list of covered vaccines, visit your member website or call Aetna® Member Services at the number on your member ID card, Monday through Friday, 8 AM through 8 PM ET.

A holistic look at your health in the comfort of your home

We want you to be happy and healthy. So we offer a Healthy Home Visit at no additional cost to you each year to help you reach your health goals! We use the results of the Healthy Home Visit to help us work with you and your doctors. The results can help us see if additional Aetna® resources and support might help you achieve your health goals.

During a Healthy Home Visit, a licensed and board-certified nurse practitioner or doctor comes to your home. They will:

- Answer your health questions
- Talk about your medical history
- Suggest ways to improve your health
- Review your medications
- Provide any needed health screenings
- Do a safety check
- Connect you with community resources

This visit doesn't take the place of a physical exam from your own doctor. But, it can be a critical part of managing your health at home. A post-visit summary is shared with you and your doctor.

Adventure awaits

Consider an accessible national park for a summer trip

National parks are not just for the adventurous youth; they're for everyone!

Staying active is essential at any age and most national parks provide multiple levels of accessibility for people with various needs. They're the perfect backdrop to embrace the beauty of nature while keeping fit or enjoying an inclusive trip with family or friends.

Grand Canyon National Park, Arizona: The Grand Canyon's breathtaking vistas are accessible to all with paved paths and shuttle services. The South Rim offers stunning viewpoints, like Mather Point. Get details about accessible features at NPS.gov/grca/planyourvisit/accessibility.htm

Acadia National Park, Maine: Acadia has more than 50,000 acres along Maine's coastline with a scenic beauty that's not limited by age. The Park Loop Road provides stunning views for those who prefer a leisurely drive, and the Jordan Pond Path is a flat trail suitable for walkers of all abilities. Check out the park's accessibility at NPS.gov/acad/planyourvisit/accessibility.htm

Adventure awaits

Shenandoah National Park, Virginia: With its Skyline Drive offering panoramic views of the Blue Ridge Mountains and Shenandoah Valley, Shenandoah National Park is a perfect destination for a road trip. Learn about the park's assistive listening devices, trails, visitor centers and more at NPS.gov/shen/planyourvisit/accessibility.htm

Zion National Park, Utah: Everyone can marvel at Zion's colorful wonders. Use the park's shuttle system to experience the majestic canyons. Or, enjoy the Riverside Walk, which is a paved trail with benches for sitting along the way. For information on accessible features, visit NPS.gov/zion/planyourvisit/accessibility.htm

Everglades National Park, Florida: For those seeking a unique adventure, Everglades National Park provides accessible opportunities to explore its vast wetlands. The Anhinga Trail is a short, paved path with plenty of wildlife viewing. Learn more about accessibility features at NPS.gov/ever/planyourvisit/accessibility.htm

Stay active amidst nature's wonders

Exploring these national parks isn't just about enjoying stunning landscapes, it's an opportunity to stay active and healthy. Before you embark on your journey, make sure to check each park's accessibility information on its website. You can learn more about all our national parks at NPS.gov/findapark/index.htm or scan the QR code.

National parks are waiting to be explored and they're accessible to everyone, ensuring that the joy of nature knows no age limit.

Caregiver corner

Exploring home care options for older adults

As we age, it's important to consider the care we need to stay healthy and happy. Sometimes, a little extra help can make a big difference — even for everyday tasks. Home care is an option for getting the care you or your loved one deserves.

Three out of four adults over age 50 want to age in their own homes. Home is where the heart is, and getting care in the place you love is a top choice for many.*

Stay independent and comfortable while getting the support you need

Home care is all about making life easier. It's like having a friendly helper by your side. Caregivers can assist with daily activities such as cooking, cleaning and personal care. They can also be a wonderful source of companionship, someone to chat with or accompany you on walks.

Find care for yourself or a loved one

Getting started with home care is as easy as talking about it. Tell your doctor about the type of care you need and they can guide you on the right path. Involve your family in the conversation — they're there to support you. You can also explore online for home care agencies in your area to find the perfect match for your needs.

Options for care at home can include, but are not limited to:

- Personal care aides: These caring professionals help with daily activities, like bathing, dressing and meal preparation.
- Companionship services: A friendly face to spend time with, play games or share stories.
- Home health care: For those needing a bit more medical attention, home health care provides services like wound care or medication management.

Trying to find care at home? Resources For Living® can help

There may be resources in your community that can help with care at home, and a Resources For Living consultant can help you find them. Resources For Living is a program Aetna® provides you at no additional cost as part of your plan. To get started call 1-866-234-3129 \(TTY: 711\), Monday through Friday, 8 AM to 6 PM (all time zones).

Quinoa & black bean salad

Energizing eats for an adventurous day

Have a busy day or exciting destination coming up? These recipes can provide essential nutrients to help keep you energized before and during your journey.

Quinoa and black bean salad*

Ingredients

- ½ cup quinoa
- 1½ cups water
- 1½ tablespoons olive oil
- 3 tablespoons lime juice
- ¼ teaspoon cumin
- ¼ teaspoon coriander (ground dried cilantro seeds)
- 2 tablespoons cilantro (chopped)
- 2 medium scallions (minced)
- 1 can black beans (15½ oz, low-sodium, drained and rinsed)
- 2 cups tomatoes (chopped)
- 1 medium bell pepper (red, chopped)
- 1 medium bell pepper (green, chopped)
- 2 chilis (fresh green, minced; or to taste)

Directions

- 1. Rinse the quinoa in cold water. Boil 1½ cups water in a saucepan, then add the quinoa. Return to boil, then simmer until the water is absorbed, 10 to 15 minutes. Cool for 15 minutes.
- 2. While the quinoa is cooking, mix olive oil, lime juice, cumin, coriander, cilantro, and scallions in a small bowl, and set aside.
- 3. Combine chopped vegetables with the black beans in a large bowl, and set aside.
- 4. Once the quinoa has cooled, combine all ingredients and mix well.
- 5. Cover and refrigerate until ready to serve.
